

THE EAGLE'S PATH

Dare to fly. Discover your essence

Why this path?

Because we feel the weight of daily burdens. Because deep in our hearts, we know we are more than our worries, more than our doubts, more than the masks we've put on to fit into this world. The eagle teaches us to look beyond, to rise above our fears, and to reconnect with the divine essence that we all carry within.

What will you experience on the Eagle's Path?

- The power of the elements and ancestral rhythms: An initial ceremony will connect us with the four elements and open the portal to the divine, asking permission from the guardians of the land.
- Movement and energy: Through five phases — fluidity, warrior strength, trance, flight, and divine connection — you will awaken your body, mind, and spirit, guided by the live music of drums, flutes, and rattles.
- Deep transformation: This is not just a dance or meditation workshop. It is an experience that touches the deepest part of your soul, helping you release, heal, and expand your vision of life..

In the depths of the jungle, where the earth breathes life and the sacred water of the cenotes whispers ancient truths, a calling awaits you. It is a call to remember who you are, to connect with your inner power, and to elevate your spirit like the eagle that watches the world from above.

The Path of the Eagle is not just another workshop. It is a journey, a transformative experience that awakens the purest and most authentic part of your being. Here, at the heart of the Elvira cenote, a sacred space filled with ancestral energy, we invite you to leave behind the limitations of the everyday and embark on a journey that merges movement, music, and spiritual connection.

Who is it for?

This path is for those who seek more. For those who feel that there is something inside them that needs to be freed. It doesn't matter if you've been on a spiritual journey before or if this is the first time you're hearing these words: if you feel the call, this place is for you.

The Elvira Cenote: A Sacred Space

This is not just any place. The Elvira Cenote is a portal of pure energy, a space that connects the earthly with the divine. Here, nature surrounds you, guides you, and allows you to connect with the deepest part of your being. It is the perfect home to take this transformative leap.

The purpose

The Eagle's Path is an invitation to return to yourself. To discover the purpose that brought you to this life. To release the burdens you have accumulated. And, above all, to remember that you are free, you are light, and you have the ability to fly.

May the spirit of the eagle guide you to this encounter with yourself.

Who am I?

I am Amaraël, a woman who has dedicated her life to exploring and sharing tools for personal and spiritual transformation. Throughout my journey, I have studied dance, I am a meditation facilitator at the Chopra Center, a facilitator of active meditations by Osho, and a Kundalini yoga teacher. These experiences have nourished my purpose: to create authentic spaces where people can reconnect with their true selves. My calling to this project was born from the certainty that true transformation happens in sacred spaces, surrounded by the energy of nature and guided with respect and purpose. This cenote, a place deeply connected to Mother Earth, was chosen for its unique energy to hold this experience.

What awaits you:

- A safe space, guided with love and respect.
- An intimate connection with the elements and the energy of the cenote.
- A team of facilitators committed to supporting you throughout the entire process.
